Co-Parenting Expense Tracker

One row for each child-related cost: what it was for, what was paid and by whom, where the receipt is kept, and what was asked for and paid back. Use the share your own order or written agreement sets out; this sheet does not decide what anyone owes.

How to use it

- One row per cost, written the day you pay it. Keep the receipt or statement and write exactly where it is kept.
- Under "Share requested", enter only what you asked the other parent for, using your order or written agreement. If you are not sure what it says, ask the court's self-help center or a licensed attorney where you live.
- Write the date and the way you sent each request (app, email, text), and keep a copy of the request itself.
- Enter reimbursements as they arrive, with the date. A partial payment is fine: enter what was actually paid.
- Keep it factual: amounts, dates and what it was for. Leave arguments and opinions out of the sheet.
